10,000 CLAMS

10,000 CLAMS. That's what the sign said, on the Avco bulletin board, last Friday. It was referring to John Crossen of 35 Main Street, Wilmington who had won that sum in a Massachusetts lottery. Crossen is an Avco employee, and doesn't expect to be awarded the money for a few weeks.

He is shown with his wife Juliette, who had returned a few days previously from Bermuda. Her daughter Linda, a second grade teacher in the Lawrence school system won a trip to Bermuda for two when she purchased a chance ticket from her paper boy. Linda shared the trip with her mother.

Town Beaches Open June 22

Wilmington's two public beaches at Silver Lake will be open for swimming beginning Saturday, June 22nd and will run on a seven day a week basis through Labor Day, September 2nd.

Hours when life guards will be on duty are 10:00 am to 8:00 pm, Monday through Saturday and 12 noon to 8:00 pm on Sundays.

Paintings by Thomas E. Cavanaugh

Thomas E Cavanaugh of 24 Forest Street Wilmington did not start out to be a painter. He is, professionally, a school custodian.

But he is a student in the Art Classes of Mrs Beatie, and currently he has paintings on exhibit (until June 12) at the "Paint Store with the Purple Door"

The store is next to the Post Office, on Haven Street, in Reading.

Tammy Olivera hit three homers

THE GLUM LOOK ON THE FACE OF JOHN DOMBI: Trainer for the Girls Softball Team, doesn't tell the story.

The girls are shown on the bench last Friday as they hosted the Lawrence team. They won by a 14-9 score, concluding a 5-5 season.

Tammy Olivera hit three homers and Carlene Butler had another, so in spite of the glum face it was a pretty good game.

McMahon Reports

High School accreditation is in danger

Wilmington High School is in danger of losing its accreditation unless something definitive is done to alleviate the "space" problem, the School Committee and others have been told, by Bernard McMahon, high school principal. A report was made by McMahon last Thursday, in the School Committee meeting in the high school.

Accreditation is the conformance of a school to standards set (in New England) by the New England Association of High Schools and Colleges. It can mean trouble for college bound pupils. McMahon told his audience that it could mean the difference in the admission of a student to a college of his choice, and that most colleges are reluctant to admit students from non-accreditated instutions for fear of lowering their standards.

Physically, accreditation consists of an evaluation of a school at stated periods of time by teams of high school teachers and other persons representing the Association.

Wilmington High School was so evaluated and accreditated in 1960 for a ten year period. This was after a team of teachers from other schools had spent five days in an examination of the high school, its facilities, its programs and its methods.

There was another in 1970, which voted an accreditation for five years, together with 272 recommendations. So far, according to Mr. McMahon, there has been compliance with 51, 23 have been rejected, and nine have a status of "no action."

McMahon told his audience that his report was not to be construed as "scare tactics." This was an indirect reference to the fact that there have been several town meetings in which proposals for a new high school were made, and were turned down by the town meeting.

Part of his report was a discussion about another high school, which he described as being "in a small city."

McMahon said that the losing of its accreditation was, in the words of the principal "like a blow in the solar plexus." The good teachers wanted to leave and there were pupils who did not want to remain.

Presumably, but not stated by McMahon, the school was in Massachusetts. Since then, he said, there has been a change in the city administration. The school has a new program, and a new curriculum is being planned.

The school is now on a temporary year-to-year basis.

The report by McMahon led inevitably into a discussion of the present high school and the possibilities of a new one, or of an addition.

One of the opinions expressed was by Mrs. Herbert Silverman. After being told that there were 400 pupils in the class of 1976 she expressed her opinion that the parents of those pupils should be called to a meeting and be told that the school to which their children were going will not be accredited.

John Brooks, school committee, probably referring to the earlier votes, said that the town would be saying it did not appreciate quality.

Brooks spoke of "long days" which are to start next September, with some pupils reporting at 8 am or before, and others (ninth graders) starting after 9 am and the school hours lasting to four or five pm. Mr. Brooks seemes to have no objection to the schools going on to midnight.

Double Session

Double Sessions, in Wilmington High School are out. so declared the superintendent of schools, Walter Pierce. The state will allow double sessions only "if you are in the midst of a building program - and that is not automatic."

If it is not possible to build a new school he had three possible alternatives to discuss.

He had explored the possibility of using the building in North Wilmington formerly rented by Avco, near Photon. There is 30,000 square feet, and the price was $2 per square foot a year, plus a discussion of unstated questions of tax relief. Pierce indicated the

State to take Anderson property

Last week the news was that the Board of Selectmen had granted a First Class Auto license, but with strings attached, for the property of Mrs. Ruth Anderson, off Lowell Street Park.

This week the news is that the Anderson property will be taken, by the state, in eminent domain proceedings, probably in the last week of July or early August. The purpose of the eminent domain taking is to provide for the construction of another ramp, between Interstate 93 and Route 129.

A letter, dated May 24th from the director of the Right of Way Bureau, State DPW reveals that the DPW has: Had the proposed taking approved by the Chief Engineer; the title search has been completed, and two appraisers have contracted to appraise the value of the property. Their reports are due in June 1974. After the reports have been received and reviewed, the Real Estate Review Board will set the final award for damages, and the eminent domain takings will be consumated.

Bizarre theft solved in hours

The only clue, when the police arrived on Tuesday morning-May 28th was a set of tire tracks. They were to be seen off Upton Drive, in North Wilmington, where a tractor-trailer rig had backed up and then driven off.

A 50 ton bulldozer had been stolen. It had a twelve foot blade, and was valued at $104,000 according to its owners, Earth Inc. of North Reading.

Actually it had been stolen during the weekend, but the police did not learn of it until Tuesday. Sergeant Charles Dolan and Patrolman Bernard Nally were assigned to the job.

The two men are not telling how they did it, but five hours after the theft was reported the police in Winchendon, Mass., as the result of a telephone call from Wilmington, walked into a gravel pit in that town, and took over a bulldozer operating there.

It was the same bulldozer.

TIRE TRACKS: The tire tracks left by the tractor-trailer which hauled away the stolen bulldozer. The building shown in back is that of Solid State Technology Inc.

Shirley Yorks honored by Figure Skating Club

The Wilmington Figure Skating Club closed its 1973-74 season recently with an open meeting attended by the executive and governing boards, instructors and interested parents of children in the skating program.

Due to the rapid growth of the club and the overall cost of production, the club will be presenting its show by-annually in the future. This year's efforts will be directed toward expanding the program to encompass school figures and official U.S.F.S.A. testings.

Outgoing president Mrs. Shirley Yorks was honored at the annual luncheon, and was presented with an engraved gavel in appreciation of all the years she has been working for the club and in particular for the past skating season.

Nine weeks of summer skating, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, commencing July 2nd and ending August 29th, will be offered by the club. Anyone interested in the prepaid program should call Dot Donnelly at 658-3286.

MOSQUITO PROGRAM

Each evening, five evenings a week, the Town of Wilmington sends out a team of men from the Tree Department, to spray against mosquitoes. This generally starts about 8 pm and lasts until 12 am.

Unfortunately, there are many children who feel it is fun to chase the spraying vehicle.

They endanger themselves in doing this. The hour is late, and there is a good chance that they might be killed by a passing motorist.

The parents of these children will have to make their choice. Stop the kids from chasing, or we will stop the anti-mosquito program.

BILL MacKINNON CRUSADES FOR ECONOMY

William D. MacKinnon of Moore Street is a fairly well known individual. He has lived in Wilmington for over 15 years, being formerly a Concord Street resident. He is a man with a shy smile, if such can be used to describe him, and a definite sense of the ridiculous, when it comes to the spending of money, both privately and publicly.

Mr. MacKinnon, together with Selectman Danny Gillis, were the two persons who were asking questions during the Finance Committee meeting of a couple of months ago, just prior to the annual Town Meeting. Perhaps they can be described as being obnoxious.

Bill now has joined an organization called Citizens for Economy in Government. It is located at 10 High Street, in Boston, and has the backing of a number of organizations - at least there are people from those organizations who are members of the Policy Committee. The list includes the president of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, the president of the Mass. Jaycees, a director from Boston University and another from Common Cause.

These people are looking at the Massachusetts Budget, and have a number of questions both for the state government and for local governments. Their goal is to improve services to the public, to eliminate duplication of services and programs, to increase the flow of federal funds to supplement state allocations, and to foster an attitude by state and local officials that, for every dollar proposed to be spent the source of that dollar be identified.

It's a big order. But Citizens is on the lookout for help. The reader may call Mr. MacKinnon if he wishes. He is ready to go to work, and needs help.

DEBRA ANN WENTWORTH: Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Wentworth of Wareham St., Middleboro (formerly of Wilmington) has received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Elementary Education from North Adams State College. While at NASC, Miss Wentworth was a member of the Orientation Committee, the Ski Club and the Outing Club. She is a graduate of Wilmington High School.

WILMINGTON TEACHERS: Who submitted a program of social studies for grade schools, last Thursday, for the consideration of the School Committee.

arrangement would not be satisfactory.

A second method would be an extended school day. This was starting in September. The school will be opened at 8 am but the ninth grade will not start until after 9. While the other classes will leave at the regular time the ninth grade will not leave until 4:10 pm.

As things are being planned for this fall there will be bigger classes than before. The pupil/teacher ratio will be up. There will be two additional staff members in Wilmington High School.

Periods three through seven will be the ones, in the high school, with the "greatest crunch" he said. He predicted that not one Department Chairman nor one Director "will be happy next year."

"This building" (the high school), "cannot conceivably contain 1600 pupils in one day."

Pierce also described a system used in Rockport, Illinois - the "extended school year," in which the high school operates twelve months a year, except for three weeks in the summer for repairs. He and members of the school committee had visited that city.

The high school pupils are divided into four groups, labeled A,B,C & D. Only three groups attend school at any one time. One group is always away, for a fifteen day period. When attending, it is for a forty-five day period. In that manner the high school had all its pupils enrolled, with an actual 75% papacity.

Jack Nealon

Jack Nealon, school committee, said that several years ago he was on the Ad Hoc committee, set up to study the school building situation, and he felt quite frustrated.

The source of his frustration seemed to be the State Board of Education and the State Building Assistance Board (commonly known as the SBAB).

Fifty acres of land were required by the SBAB for a high school, Nealon said, and the SBAB will not even consider an addition without fifty acres of land.

"We brought out a question about thirty acres for the school and another twenty acres for a playing field, and they wouldn't even give us an answer."

"Before they (the SBAB) will even consider, you must first file plans with the architect's drawings. They they (the SBAB) might consider the case. That means the town must first spend $40,000 Nealon said.

"I am not convinced that a new high school is the answer. Yet I cannot see taking those homes (along Wildwood Street, ed.) for an athletic field." Nealon was referring to a previous town meeting, in which an attempt to take private homes to provide for the fifty acres was defeated.

A question was asked about Junior High Schools. "The problem of over-crowding is not just in this building," Nealon said. "Look at our kindergartens in our churches."

"Personally I do not like large buildings. Look at the problem in Brockton. There they have 6000 pupils in one building. It is like in a zoo."

He went on to observe that there is a lot of "negative behaviour" that comes from having too many children in large buildings.

John Brooks carried on. He said that the answer could be in a third intermediate school, to hold about 500-700 pupils. "Part of the expense would be offset by a reduction in bussing costs."

Other business

The question of high school accreditation, while it occupied the floor for a long period of time, was not the only question discussed. One concerned the school committee policy in replacing the principal of the high school. Would parents, teachers and pupils participate?

Supt. Walter Pierce said the school department will use the same process as heretofore. The closing date for applications is June 28 and it would probably be difficult to replace the principal before September 1. Should a candidate not be named Mr. McMahon will remain as principal until he can be replaced.

"We want to get the very best person we can find. We received four cards today from the University of Michigan, and we hav received some from the University of Chicago."

There was a question as to whether or not Mr. McMahon's 1974-75 job was in the budget. Barbara Hooper, chairman, said it was not there by title, but the money is there.

Another question concerned creating an atmosphere in the high school so that the students will take pride in themselves, if they succeed academically. It was answered by Mr. Pierce and Mr. Nealon.

Pierce reported that the School Committee and Administration were much concerned about academics, and with the problem of satisfactory recognition and balance. Honor rolls, he said, have their weaknesses as well as their strengths. He spoke of "individual subject recognition" and "individual event recognition," and said that a committee consisting of the school principals Robert Barrett, William Fay and Harold Garrett were considering this.

The trouble about Honor Rolls, Jack Nealon told the audience, is that students who have an 85 or 90 score sometimes got low marks in such subjects as Gym, and that hurts. He reported that the Student School Committee had a poll of pupils, and felt as a result that a "pure" honor roll was not for the best, because some pupils would enroll in "snap" courses as a result.

Alcoholism

To a question about educating teen-agers concerning alcoholism Mrs. Hooper reported that a committee of parents and teachers had pretty much come to the conclusion that "any program where we just get up and preach just isn't going to work."

After other talk a direct question was put to the principal of the high school, concerning alcohol within the high school. The way Mr. McMahon answered the question was to say that in his 23 years - there were two cases, one a girl, one a boy, and that full bottles were involved each time.

Mr. McMahon reported that the brook in back of the high school was used to cool off bottles of beer, and that on Friday and Saturday and sometimes Sunday there was a lot of drinking in the high school parking lot.

Mrs. Gagnon, high school teacher, spoke of attitudes, and of training teachers to have a "social concern."

Walter Pierce, superintendent, told of last fall, and the football games. After the first game, anyone with a paper bag, or with a thermos bottle at a football game was certain to have that bag or thermos bottle investigated by some of the attendant policemen. The result had been worth while.

John Brooks was proud of the high school seniors at the Senior Prom on May 24th. There were two hundred seniors and their dates and there was not an incident.

Athletic costs

There were questions of the costs of boys athletics, of girls athletics and of non-athletic programs. The questions included one of plans for expansion of non-athletic programs. It was answered in part by Jerry Houghton, purchasing agent, and by Jack Lynch student co-ordinator.

Thirty-seven thousands are spent for boys athletic programs, Houghton said. Nine thousand is spent for girls athletic programs, and non-athletic programs including music take $13 thousand. Intra-murals are considered non-athletic programs.

There were 19 different clubs and classifications, Mr. Lynch said, such as Drama, Ski Club. He spoke of the past three years, and of the football banquet and the honor society. At the present time a course in Home Nursing is being conducted by Red Cross volunteers.

Lynch broke down, in numbers of participants, some of the activities. In boys sports, for $37 thousand worked out in participation: Football 70, Cross Country, 58, Soccer 36, Basketball 45, Hockey 44, Indoor Track 40, Baseball 45, Tennis 16 and Wrestling 28. Mr. Lynch reported on the other activities as well.

Paul Hanglin is a man One like to talk with

The Jewel Manufacturing Company has recently relocated on East Street in Tewksbury. It is a company that was started seven years ago in a 700 square foot area in Woburn and then moved to Wilmington, to 5000 square feet. Now it is in Tewksbury with 21,000 square feet of floor space.

The shift to Tewksbury is only within the past few months, and was done with the assistance of a man named Paul Hanglin. Mr. Hanglin entered the picture because the bank that provided the financing wanted to be certain that all the committments were being met.

He is a New Hampshire man who has spent a number of years with the US Army Corps of Engineers. To talk with Paul Hanglin is a sheer pleasure for people who like to talk about ecology, power, geology, construction, and many other subjects, - such as, for instance, what a community should do to best promote itself. He got that way through his life with the Army Engineers. In that life he helped to do the leg work for the big dam in Rhode Island known as the Providence Hurricane Barrier, and for another in Connecticut which is known as the Stamford Hurricane Barrier. They were built to protect cities from being flooded out by the once-in-a-century hurricane that sweeps up the Atlantic Ocean.

Another project about which he can talk for hours is the Hopkinton-Everett Dan, near Henniker, N.H., which was built by the Army Engineers for flood control purposes p a complex to be sure, of two dams and two rivers and one lake, Paul has a gleam in his eye when he talks of that project - it is going to be, he says, one of the finest wildlife sanctuaries in central New England.

He believes in such things as the controversial Dickey-Lincoln dam, proposed to be erected in Maine. He would like to see tidal powers harnessed in New England. Conservationists and ecologists, the real deep down type, would probably enjoy talking with him about such projects.

The Johnny-come-latelies who oppose any construction because of the still unproven possibility of ecological harm meet no friend in Paul Hanglin, but the person who seeks to improve from an all around viewpoint will be charmed to hear of his philosophies.

Jewel is proud of its new building in Tewksbury. One of these days there will probably be an open house. Paul Hanglin, who is at first just a sort of guardian for the bank and its interests, was the man who made it possible. He told Jewel of the difficulties it would meet in the soil, in the construction and in the financing. Jewel listened, and took Hanglin's advice, thankfully, it turns out.

Now there are other projects Paul Hanglin is talking of something he terms the Yankee Development Corporation, which could be a sort of alturistic aid and assistant to companies which want to develop, and the towns or cities that might want those companies.

There are several such corporations now in existance - one in Lowell, one in Lawrence, etc. A couple of dozen men, unpaid and volunteers, who help out in their community by being part of such a project, and by guiding small firms through the intracacies of the small business loans and with hard headed advice.

Done properly, Hanglin says, everyone will benefit. There will be more tax revenue for the communities, there will be more jobs for the people, and these things can be planned without producing urban blight.

Maybe there is a future for the communities, with people like Paul Hanglin. The Town Crier hopes to keep an eye on the gentleman.

CAR CORNER

by Michael Ristuccia and Joe Casey

Going on a long drive? Turnpike speeds demand that you treat your car with special care.

When you leave the turnpike for gas or food, always let the engine of your car run for a few minutes before shutting off the ignition.

The cooling system will thus be allowed to finish its function which is drawing excess heat from the hot places in your engine. In fact, this precaution could save you money in the form of avoiding a valve job.

Exhaust valves can warp if the engine is shut off before they cool properly.

But before you go on any long trip, make sure your car is in top shape - bring it to the skilled mechanics in the modern service dept. at WILMINGTON FORD, 275 Main St., Rt. 38, Wilmington, 658-6800. We use nothing but the latest in electronic diagnostic equipment and technical know-how and attempt to insure same day service whenever possible. Open: sales, 9-10 Mon-Fri; 9-4 Sat; service, 7:30-9 Mon-Fri; 7:30-5 Sat.

Helpful Hint

Never drive for more than two or three hours at a time. Plan trips to have stops for rest and recreation.

HOME OWNERS CORNER

by Roger

If the new wood you want to finish contains knots or has a coarse grain, or is full of resin or pitch, special treatment is necessary to give the surface a finishable smoothness.

Char the surface with a blow torch, and then sand it. Be careful not to burn the wood too deeply.

An easier way to get rid of pitch is to apply shellac to all surfaces where the pitch can be seen. Resinous woods, such as yellow pine, should be brushed over with turpentine just before they are painted.

The extra trouble will be worth it - the finished product will be much more durable!

There's no trouble finding building materials when you come to SWEEZEY HOME COURTESY CENTER, 615 Main St., Wilmington, 658-3051. We have a complete supply of all types of lumber including the hardwoods - walnut, cherry, ash, oak and birch plus Anderson, Pella and Wes-Pine windows and doors. Hours 8 am to 5 pm daily.

Helpful Hint

Use sandpaper No. 00 for finish sanding.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by Alan E. Fenton, Realtor

Amortized - today almost all mortgages written on homes are amortized over a period of years.

Basically, this means that you pay both principal and interest in one monthly payment. As the years go by, the amount applied toward interest reduces on a gradual basis.

The amount applied toward principal increases so that at the end of the mortgage payment, you have paid one level sum each month but your final payment shows no interest due and the total note paid.

From listing to closing, the courteous professional staff at A & M FENTON REALTY, INC., 104 Lowell St., Rt. 129, Wilmington, 658-3221, 944-6457 can meet all your real estate needs, why not call us first with your listing. And if you are looking for a new home, we will help you buy at a fair price, with suitable financing, with a minimum of effort. Open: 9-5 seven days; evenings by appointment.

SHAWSHEEN TECH GRADUATES

One hundred and sixty-six seniors graduated from the Shawsheen Valley Technical High School last Sunday with a job placement that surpasses that of Harvard or MIT according to Gbernol L. Knox, Assistant Director of Occupational Education, Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Benjamin Wolk, Superintendent-Director, says that graduates are expected to earn a gross salary of $847 thousand in their first year, and over $1 million in their second year of employment. Traditionally this type of graduate works and lives within a twenty-five mile radius of the school and Wolk concluded that employment of the graduates would enhance the tax base and economy of the local communities, as well as provide the local industries with a highly skilled labor force.

There were thirty-one Wilmington residents among the graduates.

Class President Donald Moore of Wilmington received the Wilmington Lions award, and the Shawsheen Tech Teacher's Association award. Richard Beaulieu received a US Savings Bond from the Parent's Council, and Donald MacCullum was awarded the outstanding achievement in automotive skills from the John L. Francis Fund. The fund was established in memory of John L. Francis of Wilmington, a senior who was recently killed in an accident.

Some don't like the law which permits 18 year olds to drink

SPEAKERS PANEL: From left, Supt. Walter Pierce, William Fay, Francis Nolan, Harold Garrett, the Rev. Peter Schrock, Atty. John Callan; and speaking, Dorothy Falk of the American Mothers Committee. On this side of Mrs. Falk are Robert Stewart, Cathy Gilligan, Mirsi Wolff, Sterling Morris, Fr. John Caulter and Officer John Ritchie.

It has been reported that there are petitions circulating in Wilmington which would attempt to do away with the 18 year old drinking law, recently established. None of the petitions are in ready evidence, but had any been in the Barrows Auditorium of Wilmington High School on May 31st there would have been signatures available.

That was the night of a meeting which was billed as "Let's Take an Honest Look." It was inspired by Anne Linehan of Dadant Drive and others. Not counting the panel of eight or ten persons there were 125 persons present, practically all of whom could be described as "white hats."

Not everyone felt that the 18 year old law, so-called, should be abolished, but there was applause on a couple of occasions when there was such a suggestion. Among those who spoke against the law were Francis Nolan, guidance Counselor at the North Intermediate School; Father John Caultor of St. Thomas Church and Officer John Ritchie of the Wilmington Police Department.

Father Caultor spoke at some length and was of the opinion that Massachusetts could have learned from the State of New York, in regard to drinking by 18 year olds.

John Ritchie, in reply to a question, said it was his personal opinion that the "18 year old law" was the "worst legislation" passed by the state house. He said that 18 year olds in Wilmington were contributing to the delinquency of younger persons, by their giving of beer to the younger ones.

Ritchie thought the town had made great strides, when it adopted the bylaw prohibiting drinking in public, and said that this, and the school law against drinking were having a good effect.

When a lady wanted to know why Ritchie had not arrested certain young men who were drinking Ritchie said he thought it polite to give a warning first.

Another question that was asked of Ritchie was pertaining to the idea of a Youth Center in Wilmington, and a place to operate mini-bikes. Ritchie replied somewhat enigmatically that those things would be provided when the town built a new high school, and there was a considerable applause, but it was difficult to know what was meant because of the verbal comments in the audience - which were not exactly laughter.

This called for comments by several about the Youth Center in the CYO of St. Thomas. One lady described it as "very good" but that some children end the evening elsewhere, and a young lady said there was no drinking at the CYO or the Coffee House, but perhaps the town needed a bowling alley and a movie theatre.

When the question of vandalism was raised the Town Manager said that from forty to sixty windows were broken each weekend, in the schools, and the list also includes toilet fixtures and light fixtures. The Police Department, he said, are unable to prevent this.

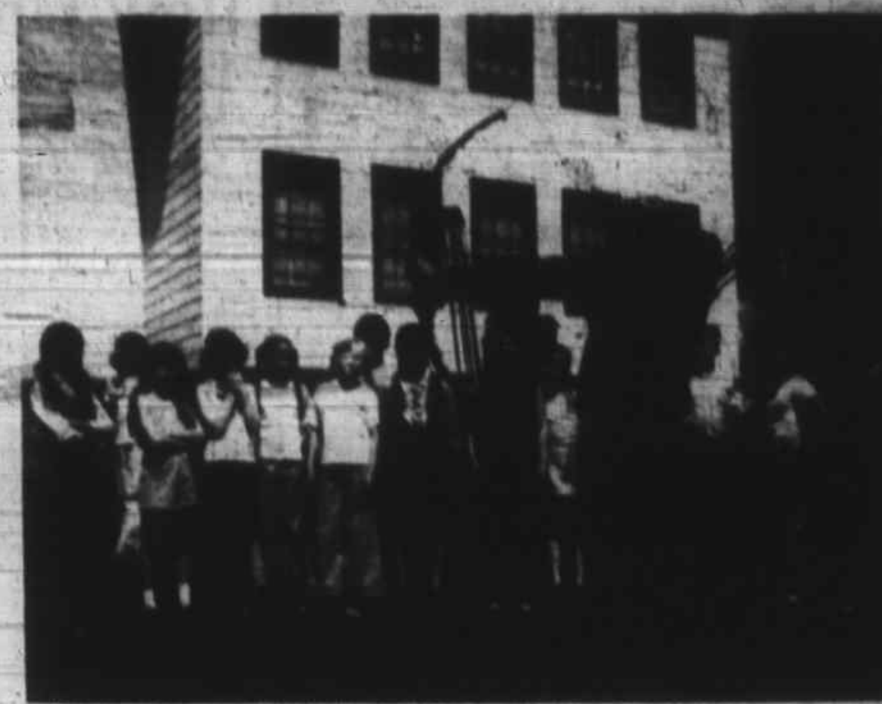

Commenting on a previous statement about 18 year old youths in the service, Morris said that the 18 year old youths in the service were not the same as those on the streets, because those in the service have a sense of responsibility.

Mr. Nolan spoke up to answer a statement about the 18 year olds being "bored," and that they bore easily. "I say if you are bored it is because you are a bore." There was quite a bit of applause to that statement.

"We have more troubles with girls than we do with boys." Boys were described as "stupidly honest" - but they have lost their respect for the girls. "We don't have enough kids who can stand up on their own two feet and say No!"

Harold Garrett, Vice Principal of the High School was on the receiving end of some remarks. Mr. Garrett was criticised because he was the person who enforced school rules, by persons who did not seem to know that the school rules were not made by him, but by the school committee. There were those, at the end of the session, who remarked that Mr. Garrett gave as good as he received.

One of Mr. Garrett's remarks was "we are no different than any other town."

JIM HANSEN: Of the Wilmington School Department is, among other things, the Audio-Visual Director of the Public Schools, and among other things is an expert archer.

Mr. Hansen is shown demonstrating the drawing of a bow to Walker School third graders, two weeks ago. Each of the classes had an opportunity to observe and learn something of archery.

TM requests better screening at Woburn Street bridge

Town Manager Sterling Morris has requested the Massachusetts DPW to install a better screening at the Woburn Street bridge over Route 93, near Park Street. The bridge is the scene of the recent fatality, involving two North Reading girls.

Morris has pointed out that the present low fence is a clear invitation for children to stand on the bridge and throw missiles on the cars below. He is requesting a high curved screening, on both sides of the bridge to prevent this "very hazardous" condition.

ROBERT BAKER REPORTS FOR SPECIALTY TRAINING

Navy Fireman Recruit Robert I. Baker son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Baker Sr. of 137 Grove Ave., Wilmington has recently graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Great Lakes Illinois. He will now report to a formal school for specialty training or to a shop or shore station for on-the-job training.

He received nine weeks of intensive instruction in seamanship, small arms training, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and Naval history.

Coffee House

Tomorrow evening is to be Parents Night, at the Coffee House, in the Masonic Hall on Church Street. There is to be music and refreshments.

Sunday there is to be a baptismal service at Silver Lake. The participants are to be those who have found Christ in the past few weeks and have decided to show their faith by baptism.

There was no Coffee House a week ago, as the young people went to the Tremont Temple, in Boston, and joined others from a tri-state area of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine. There was a concert, put on by the Black Choir, of Roxbury. Many of those who attended Tremont Temple stayed in Boston to participate in an evangelism program, and returned home at 1 am Saturday.

WILDCAT TALES

Tracksters in near upset

"There's no way that we can come close." With these words, Coach Kelley dismissed his team's chances in last Saturday's State meet at UMass in Amherst.

Brockton was too strong, so the pre-meet scuttlebut said. As a matter of fact, Brockton had three firsts and the end of four events. That was 18 points, and eighteen is sometimes good enough to win this meet. As a matter of fact, 18 points was the winning total.

What was not predicted in the pre-meet forecasts was that upstart Wilmington would get 17 points, would miss first place by four inches in the 880 relay and 2/10 of a second in the mile relay. As incredible as it seems, the Wildcats placed second overall in the meet. That shows how good a prognosticator Coach Kelley is!

In the field events, the Wildcats fared poorly. Bob Reid and Bruce Bishop braved the very rainy weather but failed to qualify in the shot and discus respectively. They were not expected to score in this statewide competition because of the strength of the competition. Things don't always go according to form in those big meets. Unfortunately Doug Stewart was eliminated in the long jump, fouling on a jump over 21 feet, which would have probably won the whole shebang. However, Doug was to make up for it in his other two events.

The 880 relay was the first running event scheduled. The quarter of Rick McCully, Bruce Bishop, Paul Fitch and Doug Stewart was in the second heat and the race proved to be a real barn burner. It was apparent at the outset that Peabody, Bridgewater-Raynam and Wilmington were the favorites. McCully's smooth handoff to Bishop put the Wildcats a very close second. Fitch, running third leg, closed the gap was out fought over the final 20 yards before handing the baton to Captain Stewart. Stew closed the margin on the curve, caught B-R on the straight away and missed taking it all by a skant four inches. Both teams were clocked in 1:31.6 as is the case in most meets the Wildcats lowered the school record. In all 3.3 seconds have been clipped from last year's mark.

In the 220 Stew glided through both qualifying heats to make the finals. Running in the seventh lane, Doug moved off the curve in good position and drew even with the leaders down the stretch. A blanket could be thrown across the first three finishers. Doug's third place in 22.3 accomplished many things. It gave him a ticket to the New England Championships next Saturday. The time makes Doug the fastest 220 man on a turn in the school's history.

Off his showing last week, Rick McCully was rated no better than fourth in the low hurdles. Rick came in third in Class C, and Don Britton of Seekonk was superb in winning Class D. Sometimes a team gets the breaks. Sometimes you wish those breaks didn't happen. Saturday McCully and Britton were clearly the outstanding hurdlers in the trials and semis. Both boys were smooth over the first three hurdles, around a curve. Britton broke contact down the home stretch and pulled away to a clear four yard margin as he hit the tape. Unfortunately for Don, a faulty trail leg caused him to be disqualified because of improper hurdle clearance. it was fortunate for the Wildcats because McCully was awarded the six first place points, creating the possibility that Brockton could be over-hauled going into the final event, the mile relay. The Wildcats trailed by five, 18-13, and needed a first place in the last event, provided Brockton was shutout (and Brockton had the best relay squad on paper), to win the meet.

In the mile relay, the Wildcats never looked so good. For four high school runners in a relatively small school to run 51.1, 53.3, 51.2 and 51.0 is hard to believe. Because the 880 relay squad had placed second in its race and, it is obvious, all eggs had not been placed in one basket. Tim Nee ran his best relay leg of the year to take the lead. Dave Cain appeared a little tight when he took the baton, but he smoothly feel into place behind Andover and Reading, ran well, and actually passed Rick St. Louis of Andover before handing off to Dave Spring. Dave held his second position battling Andover's MacDonald and stubbornly giving ground to Reading's third man. Tom McCarron of Reading widened his lead on a fine exchange at beginning of the final leg. Steve Coville found himself 12 yards to the rear with 200 yards to go, but his long strides chopped inches, feet, then yards off McCarron's lead. Coming down the straight Steve moved on the Reading runner and closed to within a yard and a half. he just ran out of track. Reading was 2/10 of a second victor, and Wilmington's gallant effort did not make it.

Stewart, McCully, & Nee in decathlon win

The ultimate test of a true athlete. That's the way the decathlon is billed throughout the world. In the third annual Central Catholic decathlon competition held on Monday and Tuesday afternoon, Doug Stewart, Rick McNully and Tim Nee took that test and won.

The three-man Wilmington contingent outscored defending champ Hamilton-Wenham by 475 points to take first place in the 26 school meet. All three boys were awarded plaques in recognition of their second, fourth and seventh place finished with 500, 4850 and 4475 points respectively.

The decathlon consists of 10 events, which took place over a two day period. On Monday the hurdles, shot put, long jump, high jump and 440 were held, whereas the 100, discus, javelin, triple jump and mile were held on Tuesday.

Ten events in two days can be wearing on an athlete, but the boys came thru in great style. The 440 was the Wildcats strongest event as the trio garnered 240 points between them. In the 100, they picked up 2300 and a surprise 1950 in the triple jump.

Wilmington's total of 14,325 points was approximately 300 better than last year's total. What a wan to end the season, although Stewart and McCully still have Saturday's New England Championships to consider.

Baseball nine squares off against Alumni

Coach Jim Gillis' varsity will close out their season this Saturday morning with a 10:45 am encounter against the Wildcat alumni. If enough interest is shown by the former grads there will be two games. The varsity will play the 1961-1973 alumni, while the jayvees will square off against the players who graduated prior to 1960.

The Wildcats played much better in the second half (5-4) of their recent MVC season to bring their final seasonal mark to 7-11. Junior Tom Bromander took the club batting crown with a .404 average, while sophomore lefthander Barry Foster, was the top hurler with a 6-4 record and an impressive 1.70 ERA.

Senior infielder Bob Stewart was selected as the varsity's MVP by the coaching staff and was presented with an award in recognition of his contributions to the club at the Varsity Club Banquet last night.

Other seniors who closed out their high school athletic careers were co-captains Tom Woods and John Harrison along with Ken Kumm, Bob Cheney, Rick Howlett and Brian Phillips. The outlook for next season is one of optimism as there is a good nucleus of starters returning

WILMINGTON SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Mon. May 27...Stepan slipped past previously undefeated K of C, 9-8 to highlight a holiday triple header at Town Park. Paul Burke (3-1) pitched Stepan into second place as his teammates won their third in four recent outings. Five different players had two hits each for Stepan to hand the Knights' Jim Hachey (5-10) his first mound loss of the season.

Jay-Dee Builders ripped Smithcraft, 11-8 with George Pratt leading a nine hit attack with three hits. John McCormack and Bill Swan had three hits each for Smithcraft. Jay Tighe (2-1) struggled to his second season win, while Art Dello Iocono lost his second of the season and is now 2-2.

Al North (4-0) turned in another gutsy pitching performance to lead Converse to an extra inning, 7-6 triumph over McNamara Tire. Bob Stewart slammed a homer for Mac's Tire, but Converse's Al Ferguson countered with three hits to lead the Rubber Company. Tom Hamilton (1-2) gave up eight hits in losing for the second time this year.

Tue. May 28...Compugraphic B's snapped a four game losing skein with a convincing 15-2 win over the Sweetheart B's. Will Whalen led a 13 hit Compugraphic attack with four hits. Harry Cimon (2-4) coasted to his second win of the season after losing four straight. Nick Katramados slammed a two run homer in the second frame to spoil Cimon's shut-out bid. Bill Wall (1-4) went 61/3 innings to absorb the loss.

In the middle encounter of the night, Deming Way ran their recent win streak to three with a 10-4 triumph over Compugraphic. Ted Wicks (2-1) tossed a seven hitter while walking four to pick up his second win of the season. Burr Baldwin led the Deming attack with a pair of hits and three rbi's. Mike Hennessey (0-2) was the losing hurler as Compugraphic lost their fifth straight. Dick Butt and Steve Mingouran had two hits each for the cellar dwellers of the Competition Division.

Miceli ripped Converse, 20-14 as they knocked Al North from the hill with 14 runs in the first two frames. Steve Shepardson led the victors with four hits, while Al Ferguson had three bingos for Converse. Ollie Olson (4-2) won his second straight despite giving up 14 hits and ten runs.

Thur. May 30...Scully balanced their league record 3-3 with an 11-4 win over Sweetheart B's. Bucky Gish (3-0) spun a neat seven-hitter, while striking out three to pick up his second straight win. Paul Sferrazza, Frank Ventile and Sully Sullivan had two hits each for the winners, while Jack Quinn ripped a pair of hits for Sweetheart. Carmen Forgione (3-0) was the losing hurler as the Plastic units lost their third straight.

In a battle for the Competition Division lead, Sweetheart topped Jay-Dee, 7-3. Buzzy Couillard (3-10) gave up five hits in recording his second win. Jim Tildsley led the winners with three hits, while George Doucette had a pair for Jay-Dee. Dick Elliott (3-2) lost his second straight after winning three in a rown.

The west sector leading Miceli Club of the Recreation Division outscored Lipton, 17-14 in the nite cap. Rick Proton led the victors with three hits including a homer, while Tom Bowers and Bill Downs had four and three hits respectively for Lipton. Ollie Olson (5-2) won his second straight and John Rose (0-3) is still winless in three mound appearances.

Frt. May 31...In a make-up of a May 23 rain-out, Scully won their third in succession slipping by Lipton, 17-16. Paul Sferrazza led Scully with three hits and Bob Henderson belted out a pair for Lipton. Sonny Brown (1-2) wasted only two innings to absorb his second loss, while Frank Ventile (1-2) won his first of the year in three appearances.

In another make-up contest, this one from May 29th, Scully edged DRC, 7-6 behind the stout pitching of Bucky Gish (3-0). Mel Tolman (1-2) was the hard luck loser as DRC had its short two game win streak snapped.

The Knights bounced back into the win column with a 13-7 win over McNamara in a make up of a May 29th rain-out. Jim Hachey (6-1) gave up seven hits in picking up his sixth season win. Jim also chipped in with three hits, as did teammate Rick Nickerson. Tom Hamilton (1-3) lost his second straight mound appearance for McNamara.

SUBURBAN PONY LEAGUE

Thu. May 30...The Mavericks finally got to open their season and they probably should not have as the Reading Rockets slammed Coach Beaton's nine, 8-1. The Mavericks played carelessly in the field and on the bases and were completely outclasses by the Reading outfit.

John Smith, Dave Sousa, Randy Foster and Steve Woods had one hit each as the Mavericks fell behind 5-0 before they got off the scoreboard. The Wilmington club had eleven batters strike out in a futile performance. Jim Stewart (0-1) went five innings and allowed five runs on seven hits to absorb his initial season loss. Sousa mopped up giving three more runs in his two inning stint.

Tonight the boys hope to reverse their form as they entertain the Stoneham Hawks at six o'clock at the HS Field.

In a rookie league (13-14 year olds) encounter the Wildcats ripped the North Reading Braves, 9-1 behind the three hit pitching of John Milano. Paul Bush led the offensive attack with three base on balls and four stolen bases, while Dan McLaughlin and Milano chipped in with a pair of hits each in a nine hit attack.

Last night Coach Hurley's Wildcats played in Reading against the Jets hoping to get into the win column of the regular league. Saturday morning at nine the Wildcats host the Reading Y's Men, while the Mavericks travel to REading to do battle with the Jets in a three o'clock tilt.

WILMINGTON LITTLE LEAGUE

Jeanne Mount would like to thank the Little League, the Angels and the many boys and their parents who took the time to send flowers and cards, while she was in the hospital and at home recuperating.

The following summaries should bring all interested parties up-to-date as the major leagues enter their second month of play.

Majors: During the week of May 13-19, Jim Liwinsky tossed a two-hitter and whiffed 12 to lead the Yankees past the Orioles, 5-3 on Tuesday ant then Al Capodanno allowed only four hits on Friday as the Yanks pounded the Angels, 19-2. The hitting of Sal Carbone and Louie Theriault paced the Tigers to an 11-6 win over the Orioles. In a make-up contest on Sunday the Tigers edged the Twins, 5-4 with Carbone driving in the winning run in the bottom of the sixth. Neil Wetzler and Billy Murphy slammed solo homers for the winless Twins.

Week of May 20-26: Frank Sargent collected seven strike-outs and allowed only three hits as the Yankees slipped by the White Sox, 3-2. On Tuesday the Twins, still searching for their first win, succumbed to the Indians, 3-2. A twin-bill on Wednesday saw the Orioles come back from an 11-4 deficit to defeat the White Sox, 14-11 and Russ Dailey picked up his third win in a row as the Red Sox belted the Angels, 10-2. Jamie Boudreau paced the Sox offensive attack with a two run home run homer in the third frame. In a game played in the rain on Friday evening, the Tigers came from behind to drub the Indians, 11-4. The Red Sox continued to make noise in quest of the league lead on Saturday, beating the Twins, 11-7 behind the pitching of Mark Hurley.

Week of May 27-June 2: The Angels finally got in the win column after six straight losses as they topped the slumping White Sox, 4-1. Archie DeLetter pitched a strong game and Roy Bromander slammed a solo homer. After another day of rain, the Yankees knocked off the Indians, 5-3 on Thursday and then on Friday the Tigers posted a 3-1 win over the Angels to stay within a game of the league leading Yankees. Winning hurler Sal Carbone twice pitched out of bases loaded situations to keep the Bengals in second place.

In another make-up encounter on Sunday, the Tigers slipped past the Red Sox, 5-4. Tim Moran picked up the win as Carbone and Theriault were the hitting stars for the winners.

Seniors: Rain was the problem last week, but in those games played the Tigers ran their unbeaten streak to eight with an 8-4 triumph over the Red Sox on May 30th. Meanwhile, the Indians fell deeper into the basement losing to the Orioles (10-7) and the Red Sox (8-5).

Minors: Also in a rain abbreviated slate, the Mets extended their unbeaten streak to four with a 9-3 triumph over the Cubs on May 25th. The Redlegs got only one hit, by Brian McGrath, byt 16 walks helped as they beat the Dodgers, 10-7. John Vaughn picked up the win despite giving three hits to Paul Elmstrom and a pair to Paul Campbell. The Cards came from an early 7-0 deficit to defeat the Pirates, 12-9 last Saturday evening behind the gutsy pitching of Robert Morris and the clutch hitting of Billy Trites.

Farms: Rain washed out all of the games except one, which saw the Eagles clobber the Ravens, 22-4 on May 31st.

Film "On Drowning" to be shown in Rec Office

Next Tuesday evening, June 11, at 7:30, a film entitled "On Drowning" will be viewed in the Recreation Office, Mildred Rogers School, at Silver Lake.

This water safety film is the only all purpose instructional film which shows actual drownings and rescues.

With water related activities becoming more popular and thus more dangerous each year, the importance of this film is evident.

The film illustrates: differences between distress victims and drowning non-swimmers; why adults should never leave children unattended at water front areas; why children should wear life jackets; why one should never swim along and why one should swim only in guarded areas.

Anyone wishing to join the lifeguards in viewing the film should call the Recreation Office at 658-6512.

Home management course this summer

A summer Home Management program is to be conducted in Wilmington High School, starting about July 1 and ending on August 9. It will be under the auspices of the vocational Education Act of 1963, of the Federal Government, and is being offered to both boys and girls.

Forty pupils, grades nine through 11, will be offered the course on a first come, first served registration basis. Students will be divided into two sections of twenty weeks.

There will be six areas of weekly study, on a rotation basis. Included in the six areas will be: Food preparation and service; Arts and Crafts; Furniture refinishing, home repair; Sewing machine care, creative stitching and leather; and Ecology in the home. Consumer Education is being emphasized in all areas.

There is to be one field trip, involving all the students, to the seacoast to observe plants, etc., and will include a tour of a recycling plant. The trip is to cost 50¢ per student.

School hours will be from 8:30 am to 11:45 am daily. Parents will be responsible for transportation of children.

PLANNING INTERN: Roger Wurbin, 23 year old graduate student of Tufts University has been employed by the Wilmington Planning Board as an assistant in planning, for about one year. He will work about 40 hours a week with headquarters in the Mildred Rogers School. He is a Quincy resident.

WILMINGTON YOUTH HOCKEY Spring

Pee Wee B (8-1-0)...The B's won their eighth game of the spring by demolishing Billerica II 18-0 that's right - 18-0. Leading the scoring parade was Mike Moran with four goals. Dave Kidd and Doug Wiberg each scored the hat trick while Mike Stokes tallied two goals. Single markers were added by Mark Boudreau, Keith Ford, Steve Scanlon, Bob Lowney, Mark Potenza and Walter Surrette.

Squirt A (7-0-1)...Coach Don MacDonald's A's remained undefeated pasting Billerica 8-3. George Boudreau and Kevin Smith each collected two goals while Ted Moran, Bob Williams and John Cushing helped with single markers. Wilmington outshot Billerica 31-15. Jeff Lux had a strong game in net for Wilmington.

Bantam B (4-2-1)...Two goals by Joe Laliberte and a singleton by Billy McCann gave the B's a well earned 3-3 tie against rugged South Boston. It was a super defensive game as goal tenders Skip Yetman and Dave Gorden with help from Dana Kidd and Larry Beatrice contained Southie to keep the game knotted at three.

Children's summer program at Wilmington Library

Youngsters are invited to join in the fun beginning Friday June 28th at 10:30 am when the first arts and crafts films, "PAPER Mache" and "Paper Construction" will be shown. Summer materials will be given out at that time and details of the summer programs will be explained.

Colorful pirate posters bearing the theme "Dig it up at Your Public Library" will be appearing around town as reminders of the treasures in store at the library this summer.

Crusaders came in second

The Wilmington Crusaders, who are in effect the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps of Wilmington, and a feeder corps to the Cardinals, came in with a second place prize, last weekend, in Bedford. The competition was an Eastern Mass. Circuit contest, and among those pleased at the good standing of the youngsters were their friends, the Wilmington Cardinals.

The Cardinals, too, came in at second place, but in three competitions. They placed second in Weymouth, in an Open Invitational Contest, June 1st, they came in second on June 2nd in Danvers, in a Mayflower Circuit contest, and the third contest was in Beverly, for the top drum corps in the area. There too, the Cardinals were in second place.

There is to be a general body meeting of the Wilmington Cardinals and Crusader Juniors Booster Club, tonight, at 8 pm in the VFW Hall on Main Street, Wilmington.
